UNANIMITY.

IT'S A GO AT LAST.

Senate Passes the Railroad Bill.

Only Twelve Votes, All Democratic, Are Recorded Against It.

Insurgents Who Opposed the Original Draft Forced to Give Support.

Radical Changes Made After Twelve Long Weeks of Consideration.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Senate passed the administration railroad bill at 9:55 tonight. It had been under consideration for twelve weeks and no other business save appropriations were considered during that time.

Only twelve votes—all by Democrats—were recorded against the bill. The practical unanimity with which the bill was passed was due to radical changes made in the measure from the form in which it was drafted by Atty.-Gen. Wickard, following numerous conferences at the White House.

All the insurgents who opposed many features of the original bill, voted for it tonight.

Through the elimination of pooling and merger sections and by reason of adoption of many amendments in the interests of shippers, the progressive claim a signal victory and most of the Democrats express themselves as favorable to the large portion of the measure.

Had it not been for the retention of the sections to create a Court of Commerce, it is likely the vote for the bill would have been unanimous.

DEBATE CALLED FOR.

Debate ceased at 9:50, when Senator Elkins, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, moved to take up the bill which was passed by the House, and after striking out the body of the measure, to substitute the measure agreed upon by the Senate. In that form the bill was voted upon with the result that it was passed, 50 to 12.

No Republican voted against the bill, and six Democrats voted for it. They were Chamberlain, Clay, Gore, Frazier, Simmons and Stone. The Democrats recorded against it were Bacon, Fletcher, Frazier, Hughes, Money, Newlands, Percy, Purcell, Rayner, and Stone.

Railroad Chiefs to See President.

Direct Appeal Will Be Made Next Monday to Head of the Nation.

"He's Mistaken on Proposed Advance," Is Cry: "We'll Set Him Right."

Stocks Take Tumble; Plans for Improvements Laid on Shelf.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DETROIT, June 3.—President Taft arrived here at 7 o'clock tonight, and confirmed the report that next Monday, at Washington, he will give a hearing to the large delegation of railroad presidents who feel aggrieved over the Hamilton injunction suit. The conference was requested by several of the big western trunk lines.

CHICAGO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A direct appeal to President Taft is to be made by the twenty-five railroads comprised in the Western Trunk Line Committee, when a committee consisting in part of presidents of railroads centering in Chicago will journey to Washington next week to confer with the Chief Executive of the nation regarding his hostile attitude toward the proposed increase in freight rates.

This was decided in secret when the heads of the various roads, together with their attorneys, met and discussed the stand which the President adopted after the Hamilton injunction suit. The conference was requested by several of the big western trunk lines.

"Our plans have not been definitely formulated regarding the visit to President Taft," declared one big railroad president today. "As I understand it, he has not yet granted us an audience. It was suggested at a meeting which we held last night, that it was possible that the President is mistaken as to the attitude which the railroads have taken in regard to a proposed advance in rates for freight transportation, and it was in the idea of setting the President right on the question that the trip was proposed. The definite make-up of the committee in whose hands the matter will be entrusted has not been decided."

STOCKS TAKE TUMBLE.

Stocks took a headlong tumble in Wall street today as a direct result of the freight rate agitation and the large loss made by the railroads to curtail expenditures. Railroad shares not only slumped violently, but also those of industrial corporations, especially those engaged in the manufacture of railroad equipment and supplies.

Standard Steel fell four points under a heavy outpouring of offerings, and leading railway shares showed losses ranging from 3 to 6 points, the most weakness being manifested in the securities of the roads traversing western territory, including Union Pacific, St. Paul, Southern Pacific and the Hill lines.

Investors were thoroughly frightened over the situation which has been brought on by the conflict between the railroads and the shipping interests, and stocks heretofore held as permanent investments were thrown over recklessly, the offerings becoming so large as to overwhelm all efforts made to support values.

PREPARE FOR STRUGGLE.

Preparations for the coming struggle between the railroads on the one hand and the shippers, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Federal government on the other, were noted in each of several centers of discussion today. The railroads, in order that they may curtail as far as possible, all extra operating expenses, cut down the number of their employees, cancelled orders for proposed rehabilitation and dropped work on such improvements as now are in course of construction.

The decision to call upon President Taft was regarded as the most important move preparatory to the approaching battle, although to some observers it appeared to hint a willingness to arbitrate.

"We are cutting down our force of employees to as large a degree as we can safely afford," declared President Ripley of the Santa Fe, "and we shall have to run just as close to the rails as is possible until the trouble is satisfactorily arranged. All current expenses are being reduced as far as possible."

"Extensive improvements in our system, which we have been contemplating for some time, have been abandoned," explained F. A. Delano of the Wabash, "because of the action which has been taken by the Interstate Commerce body. We are waiting just as close to the wind as possible and our

PASSION.

HE MUST SUFFER

Esther Quinn Tells Peck Romance.

I Loved Him as Woman Could Love But Once in Lifetime, She Says.

"He Married on Impulse, I Told Me; I Believe Him. Am Heartbroken."

Her Anguish, However, Insists, Is Worth Fifty Thousand.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Esther Quinn, the young woman who is suing Prof. H. Thurston Peck of the Faculty of Tufts University, for $25,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage, been living in Cambridge since the year. When seen at her home today, she declared that all the allegations made by her lawyer, Daniel O'Reilly, in the suit filed in New York, are true and can be substantiated by documentary and other evidence.

"After Dr. Peck's wife divorced him in 1904," said Miss Quinn, "I knew he fully expected to marry me and I filled his promise to me. But he was a sweetest of his boyhood, and a girl, I am unable to forgive his pulse. He must suffer as he made me suffer, although I still admire him."

"It was not of my choosing that I met and loved Dr. Peck," continued Miss Quinn. "He deceived me from the beginning. He was a married man, but said he was a bachelor. Then when I learned he was a married man my love was strongly entrenched that I could not break it down."

"HE'S FASCINATING."

"I went to work on the Commercial Advertiser in New York in 1904. Dr. Peck was writing feature articles for the paper, and I met him in the office. He is a remarkably magnetic man, and fascinating. I looked up to him as my ideal, and I loved him as a woman can love 'but once in a lifetime.'"

"It is without again that I say. Dr. Peck loved me the first time he saw me, as I loved him. He told me many times. I gave my love to him unreservedly. His masterful intellect overpowered me. But, had I known he was a married man, then, I would have acted differently."

"Our love ripened and grew strong. Sometimes he talked to me or wrote to me of his home, and at long intervals, I became suspicious. Then he confessed to me that he was a married man, but said he was living with his wife. Even here, I drew upon my sympathy—I sympathized with him because his marriage had been unhappy."

"From the Commercial Advertiser I went to the Smart Set, doing editorial work and reading manuscripts. Dr. Peck and I met continually. He spoke to me of marriage, but of course the relation was out of the question with his wife living. Years went by, I love was apparently steadfast and last our plans for marriage were definitely set when his wife brought suit for divorce in September, 1908."

"SINCERE PUNISH."

"Although I am understanding had listed from a day shortly after I, Dr. Peck, his first time, 'I did' become formally engaged until a few days after the divorce action was begun."

"Then he promised he would marry me as soon as he was free. It was not a sentimental promise, but a gun."

FIRST WIFE SAYS HE'S 'INK MANIA.'

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Shortly after the first Mrs. Harry D. Peck obtained a South Dakota divorce in 1904, she expressed the following opinion of the professor: "He is an ink maniac. Put a pen in his hand and he cannot restrain himself."

"Prof. Peck has old-fashioned ideas about women. He married me when I was very young and immediately secluded me as much as if I had been in Turkey. He never took me anywhere. The only society he seemed to care for was that of his companions at his club. But when he was away, alone in Europe especially, he wrote me ardent letters, keeping me

"CORN KING" "POPS" AGAIN.

Wealth Rewards Union of Couple Who Were Parted by Want.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Divorced in the hour of adversity and remarried eighteen years later, after he had gained fortune and fame as the "Popcorn King" of Walla Walla, is the experience just completed by Frank McAlpin in marrying Mrs. Waller here. The couple were divorced eighteen years ago, McAlpin moving to Walla Walla where he has grown rich, and Mrs. McAlpin marrying in Tacoma. Her husband died a year ago and the former husband and wife recently became reconciled.

BOARD OF HEALTH "PINCHED."

San Francisco Officials on Inspection Trip Arrested for Exceeding Speed Limit.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Everybody tried mightily hard to keep the affair a secret, but this is the truth: The Board of Health has been "pinched."

It happened in San Jose night before last, when eight hungry automobilists, also made thirsty by minute inspection of the brand of water supplied by the Spring Valley Water Company, were within four blocks of a hotel and assistance.

The blotter of the Police Station at San Jose tells no tales, for there is no entry, but the cold, unflattering fact is that Dr. George Lee Eaton, president of the San Francisco Board of Health; his two associates, Drs. T. B. Roche and Guy E. Manning; J. A. McFarland, president of the Union Iron Works; J. B. Wallace and A. S. Crawford, president of the Spring Valley Water Company; E. M. Coffey, chief clerk and statistician of the Board of Health, and Isaac Anderson, contractor and capitalist, were arrested for exceeding the Santa Clara speed limit, and would have to go to jail.

After considerable verbal sparring, Crawford paid $20, and the party was released. They had been on an inspection tour of the sanitary conditions of the Spring Valley water holdings, and were attempting to make up a little lost time caused by the breaking down of another machine.

THINGS CAME GIRL'S WAY.

Not Pleasant, But Eggs, Hurdled by a Grocer's Jealous Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because she thought her husband was showing undue attention to Miss Julia Query, his pretty girl clerk, Mrs. Charles Higdon, wife of a Renton grocer, bombarded the young woman with eggs today, while her husband remained discreet in the rear of the store. Then Mrs. Higdon suffered a nervous collapse, and was put in charge of a physician.

Without warning, Mrs. Higdon entered the store during her husband's absence, and told Miss Query that she would have to leave at once. Miss Query refused to go until discharged by Higdon himself.

Infuriated by the answer, Mrs. Higdon seized eggs from a basket on the counter and threw them rapidly at the girl's face. Miss Query was dazed, and only was able to dodge a portion of the flying eggs. Then Mrs. Higdon snatched the young woman's glasses and broke them into bits while the girl was trying to defend herself. Higdon finally mustered courage, separated the two, and ordered his wife to leave the store.

YOUNG FORGER CONFESSES.

PETITIONS REACH HIGH SUM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 3.—John W. Coon, a youth held in the County Jail on a charge of forgery amounting to $750, made a confession to the prosecuting attorney yesterday, and said he would enter a plea of guilty when arraigned Saturday.

He is accused of having forged the name of the firm by which he was employed, his pecuniations extending from August, 1908, to January, 1910.

Soon after the discovery of the alleged forgeries, Coon left Seattle for Los Angeles, and during his stay in California was indicted by the King county grand jury. He returned to Seattle, and his whereabouts were not known to the sheriff until his mother wrote to a complaint charging insanity.

BARTLETT DECLINES HONOR.

WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.) June 3.—George A. Bartlett, Democratic Congressman from Nevada, in a telegram sent last night to James G. Sweeney, Justice of the Supreme Court of this State, announces that he will not be a candidate for any office at the coming election. He gives as his reasons matters of a personal character, which he says the public will not be interested in. Bartlett has been Congressman from Nevada for two terms, succeeding C. D. Vanduser.

HER WILD OATS ARE SOWN LATE.

Oregon Wife Leaves Husband and Children.

Seeks a Good Time With Her First Love.

Confides Her Philosophy of Life to a Neighbor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Remarkable that "a woman must sow her wild oats, and if she doesn't do it when she's young she will have to when she's older," Mrs. Cora Huron deserted her husband, Daniel G. Huron, three small sons to run away with her first love, according to testimony submitted in her husband's suit for divorce, heard by Judge Bronaugh of the Circuit Court this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Huron were married in Winona county, Minn., May 10, 1888, and afterward moved to Marion county, Oregon.

Huron said he was thunderstruck when his wife left him, but Richard Matney, who was a neighbor at the time, said Mrs. Huron told him she had kept alive her love for the young fellow who had won her heart, and that she had arranged to join him and go to Seattle. She then told Matney her philosophy about sowing wild oats, and remarked that although she had been married twenty years she was bound to "have her good time."

MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

Willie Wah's Mother a Malay—Can't Speak Chinese—Deported.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—That Willie Wah, recently acquitted of a charge of being the ringleader of a widespread conspiracy to smuggle Chinese across the border from Mexico, is a man without a country was the official decision today when United States Commissioner Heacock refused to order his deportation to China.

Immediately after his acquittal Wah was arrested by the immigration authorities on the grounds that he was a Chinese illegally resident here. Wah declared he was not a native of China, claiming that his mother was a Malay, but he did not know where she was born neither did he know the nativity of his father.

As the burden of proof in deportation cases is put upon the accused, Wah was in desperate straits, but when he proved through interpreters that his knowledge of the Chinese language was as incomplete as his ability to speak English, Commissioner Heacock refused to order his deportation. Wah does not bear the slightest resemblance to the Chinese.

TO SOLVE JADE PROBLEM.

Geological Survey Scientists Start for Alaska to Visit Unexplored Kobuk River Country.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 3.—Explorations of Northern Alaska for ages have made axes and ornaments of a green jade, which upon examination by experts, has been pronounced equal to any found in China and Japan. The Eskimos say that a whole mountain at the headwaters of the Kobuk River in the Arctic Circle is composed of this jade.

As jade occurs only in this vein, it is believed that the summer they will cross the divide they will reach the unexplored Kobuk River country, which is known to contain gold, coal, copper and asbestos besides the jade. The explorers will arrive at Nome to catch the last steamer for Seattle. During the summer they will examine the Squirrel River gravels reported to contain gold.

NEW CHARTER FOR CAPITOL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the instance of the Mayor, a Citizens' Committee has been formed to draft a new charter for Sacramento. This will be along the lines of the commission form of municipal government, and is in progress here for several months.

Three cities in California now have the commission, San Diego, Riverside and Berkeley. Sacramento will be the largest city in the Far West with the exception of Tacoma, to try it.

Sacramento has been a commission until 1932, when it was abandoned for the system then in vogue in other places. The referendum will be included in the new charter, but there is much opposition to the recall.

Experts employed by the grain men to visit the various sections also report the best crop known in a long time, and many of the large growers will reap fortunes this year, even should the price decline to 85 cents, but it is believed that $1 will be secured for most of the crop.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW LONDON, June 3.—After a nine-mile morning run and a half-hour turn with the pulley weights, Jim Jeffries decided that was enough for one day and spent the afternoon relaxing at home.

When Jeffries left in the morning for a spin to the fish hatchery in his new machine, he intended to return to the gym and do some light work with the apparatus as well as spar with Champ and Armstrong, but at the hatchery the call of the trout asserted itself so strongly that he borrowed a rod and reel and started up stream, sending his family back to camp.

Jim Corbett spent nearly the entire day in the gym, working for his sparring match with Jeffries. This sparring match was scheduled for Tuesday, but Jeff has another engagement for that day. He will fight at Monterey and intend to be in deep sea fishing. "I do not think," said Corbett today, "that Jeffries ever was more rugged or stronger than he is now, nor do I think his wind ever has been better. If anything, he is more powerful now than when I boxed him several years ago. I have been quoted as saying he was faster now than ever, but I did not say that. He is about as fast as any one could expect. He still has four weeks of training now and will be in better shape now on will be to make him fit."

Jeffries was in high spirits all day, due largely to the fact that he read Gillett's denial of the story sent out from Chicago by a news agency yesterday to the effect that the fight was a "tramp-up" and that it was fixed for Jeff to win.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) In the District Court of Appeals yesterday Attorney Frank J. After one of which the criminal case was conducted at the court on May 23 last, and is in the case in that the fight was a "tramp-up" and that it was fixed for Jeff to win.

Ryo Fukuda and Japanese Wrestling Partner Training for Tonight's Bout.

LIGHTNING CHRIS KERR TO MEET JIU JITSU EXPERT.

Ryo Fukuda, the Jiu Jitsu expert, put in a busy day at the Japanese training quarters, yesterday, in preparation for his bout with Lightning Chris Kerr, at McCarey's Pavilion tonight. The Jap is going up against a man who will outweigh him fifty pounds, and he says he will enter the ring in the best possible condition.

Fukuda is probably the cleverest exponent of the art of Jiu Jitsu on the Coast today. He asserts that he has never been defeated, although his opponents invariably have outweighed him. However, he has never tickled a man as heavy as Kerr, who at the same time is an old-timer at the wrestling game.

The measurements of the men follow:

Kerr.	Fukuda.
132 lbs.	141 lbs.
5ft. 11in.	5ft. 4in.
42 in.	34 in.
17 in.	15 in.
21 in.	21 in.
21 in.	21 in.

Kerr has never appeared here, but he succeeded in cleaning up several strong mat men at Arizona. If he shows any class it is probable that he will be matched with Sailor Roberts, who is now in San Francisco and is anxious to get on with a first-class heavyweight.

The show is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock. Fred Johnson and Jack Lee are to meet, catch-as-catch-can, in the semi-final, and two Japanese fencing contests will be staged as curtain-raiser.

Continued Cold Is Worrying
California Athletes.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

URBANA (Ill.) June 3.—The tenth annual track and field meet of the Conference Athletic Association is to be held on Illinois field tomorrow. Among the strong contenders are Chicago, Wisconsin, Illinois, Stanford, California, Washington and Notre Dame.

Because of the apparent equality of many of the teams entered, it is expected that twenty-five points will be enough to win.

Only a few of the events are conceded to any particular athlete. It is said Davenport of Chicago will win the 440 yard run. He won his heat in the preliminary today, in impressive style, in the creditable time of 50 3-5. Davenport is also thought to be a likely winner in the half-mile run.

Straub of Chicago, is looked upon as a contender in the 150-yard dash by virtue of his victory in that event last year.

Nelson of Washington, is held in high favor for this event, and also the 220-yard dash, which is considered his better distance.

One of the features of the meet will be the exhibition pole vaulting by Scott of Stanford.

Scott, who is holder of the world's record of 12:10 7-8 feet, is ineligible to compete under conference rules, as this is his fourth year in college competition. Scott made his record at Boulder, Col., on May 27, of this year, and hopes to reach the phenomenal mark of thirteen feet tomorrow.

The recent cold weather is said to have affected the California men who have been here several days in the hope of becoming acclimated.

The preliminaries were disappointing because of the small field. The 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the high and low hurdles, and two heats in the quarter mile were the only events run.

Davenport, of Chicago and Wyman of Leland Stanford, were the winners of the two heats. Both men won with plenty to spare. Davenport ran in 50 2-5, while the other heat was a bit slower.

Summary:

First heat, Davenport, Chicago, first; Stols, Leland Stanford, second; Knacht, Michigan, Agricultural, third. Time, 50 2-5.

Second heat — Wyman, Leland Stanford, first; Hanley, Illinois, second; Wolcott, Beloit, third. Time, 51.

THREE HELD FOR CRIME.

Eldorado County Officers Jail Three Pending Investigation of Murder Mystery.

ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PLACERVILLE, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ira Allen of Auburn is in jail here pending investigation of the death of L. P. Coscia, whose mutilated body was found at Mt. Auburn a few days ago. Carl Goffinette and Frank O'Dell are also held in connection.
Coscia was murdered for the purpose of robbery, officers say. One of the articles stolen was a gold watch.
The number of this had been taken by an Auburn jeweler who repaired it and it is said to have come to him for repairs again since the owner was killed. These circumstances have led to the arrest of Allen, who is reported to have possession of field glasses owned by Coscia since the murder was committed.
The crime was one of the most brutal ever committed in Eldorado county.
Coscia being slain with an axe. The dead man was for years a resident of San Francisco and quite wealthy.

WHOLESALE ROBBERIES.
THREE BOYS CONFESS.

BOULDER (Colo.) June 3.—Wholesale robberies committed here for a week past led the police to believe a gang of professionals had invaded the city, when, today, three lads, the oldest 14, were arrested and confessed.
The boys are Edward Condon, 13;
Willie Seider, 14 and Earl Young, 12.
The Young boy lives in Longmont,
but has been visiting an aunt here.
The other two live with their parents in this city. After their arrest, which was brought about by an attempt to dispose of some loot, the boys led the police to an abandoned shack, where they had hidden much of the stolen property.

colored, as his accomplices. The three men will be electrocuted next Friday.

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that his rich wife has more interest in her brother than her own husband, Rudolph M. H. Jansen, head of a large engraving firm, today entered suit for divorce against his wife, Florence Adelaide Grey Jansen, alleging desertion.
It is set forth by the husband that his wife is now in Los Angeles traveling with her brother, who is ill, and that his attorney have not been able to find her to serve papers on her. The fortune of Mrs. Jansen is estimated at about $250,000.
The husband sets forth that ever since the wife was married here, ten years ago, his wife has paid more attention to other members of her own family than to him. He asserts himself as a man of means ready and willing to care for his wife in the most home which he occupies alone at No.
242 Millville avenue, but that the wife
does not apparently care for his home.
She has been at home but three times in the last five years, he claims, leaving for the Pacific Coast last fall after telling him that she would not return to her Pittsburgh home until satisfied that her brother nor any other member of her own family needed her longer. Mr. Jansen asserts that three times he has spent much time and money following his wife and her brother over California trying to serve papers on her.

STORY OF SISTERLY LOVE.

Dependent, One Takes Life; Grief
Kills Second—Will Be Buried

ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grief over the suicide of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Musgrave, two days ago, was the cause of the death today of Mrs. Stella Richardson.
The two sisters will be buried together
Sunday.
All their lives the two had been constant companions. During the recent months Mrs. Richardson had not been well, and it is thought the lack of her company contributed to the sister's despondency that led to the sister's act, when on last Wednesday evening, in the presence of her husband, from a bottle of carbolic acid she took the fatal swallow of carbolic acid.
The news could not be kept from the sister, and since that evening she had rapidly declined. The end came this morning.
The aged mother, Mrs. J. S. Easter-brook, is also overcome, and grave fears are entertained for her life.

PECK.

rect, sincere pledge, and I knew he was sincere when he made it.

"We went so far as to agree that we were to be married in August, 1909.
About a year ago Dr. Peck, because of the multiplicity of his duties, was away from me a great deal, but it was not until well along in the summer that I began to entertain the first doubt as to his intentions.
"When August came the month we had set for our marriage—Dr. Peck told me he was completely run down and had obtained an extended leave of absence. He went away and I seldom heard from him. In October, hearing he had returned to New York,
I went to his office and encountered a sign on the door which stated that he was on leave of absence until February.

"Still my trust in him was strong.
Although my woman's intuition warned me that something was happening of which I was in ignorance, I left New York and came to Cambridge, with the understanding that Dr. Peck would arrange his affairs so that he could carry out his promise. I wrote to him and received no reply. On February 2, last I went to New York and saw him.

"MARRIED ON IMPULSE."
"He was ill at ease and on the plea that he was busy I was put off until the next day. When I saw him again he told me, after a long and devious conversation, that he was married.

"I married on impulse," he told me.
"I cannot explain it, I thought of you,
but the impulse overcame me."
"You are not going to make a fuss about it, are you?" He asked, carelessly. "I know you are better than that."

"Stunned, broken-hearted, I left him.
I have not seen him since. I believe his statement that he married on impulse, but his duty to me should have guided him. He has ruined my life and I cannot rest supinely and allow him to escape without some retribution."

TOOK FLING AT "NEW

ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just seven years ago, Prof.
Peck, of the World, an article on "The Twentieth Century Woman," from which the following extracts are taken.

"To every man desiring of the name a true home is of all things the most desirable and beautiful.
"If a man sees about him only women who regard matrimony with loathing and shrink from the responsibilities of sex, who believe that they have fallen in the world for greater than the noble ones of wifehood and motherhood, or women who crave continual excitement and say their own nature are so complex that no one man can ever satisfy their needs, then what is left for men but a life about town?
"A man does not earn for a new type of wifehood for he does not wish the sort of wife who would be a species of domestic comet, a dissolving view of even a person he could borrow money of."

SAVES THEIR GOD.

Sea Captain Rescues Idol of Comet-Scarred Patagonians and Receives Reward.

ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. Von Helms of the Kosmos liner Steak, was hailed as the savior of a tribe of Patagonian Indians when he called at Punta Arenas, because he restored their missing idol. He found the Indian fishermen in abject fear over Hailer's prompt because their idol had been stolen, and therefore, could not protect them.
From the chief's description Von Helms recognized the factors as a party of anthropologists sent out by a European. He found the scientists tabulating and packing their finds.
At first they denied having seen an idol in their possession, but when Capt. Von Helms threatened to bring his crew ashore and open all their belongings they admitted having the idol, but refused to return it. The idol was finally brought to light, causing a whoop of joy from the Indians, who fell on their knees. The next day a delegation of Indians brought the captain fifteen sea lion skins and a carved ivory box.

Men's Suits and Overcoats at $20 and $25

We especially succeed in fitting hard-to-fit men in these two grades.
IN ALL PROBABILITY WE SELL MORE SUITS AND OVERCOATS AT THESE TWO PRICES THAN any other store this side of Chicago; included in these lines are the cleverest creations of at least ten of the world's best makers; among the fabrics are worsteds, cassimeres, tweeds and vicunas in many shades of gray and brown; also plain and fancy blues in one, two and three-button models. To duplicate these suits, we figure, the ordinary clothes shop or small clothing store must ask you to pay at least a fourth more than our prices. . . . $20 and $25

Great Array of Finest Suits You'll profit by a look at the fine suits we're showing in the new fancy weaves; late May arrivals in tans, grays, browns;
finest English worsteds; fine American weaves; the choicest products of the weaver's and tailor's arts, $30, $35, $40, $50.

New Ideas in Young Men's Clothes Nobody knows better than we do the special needs and wishes of the college and high school young fellows in clothes. We've made a study of these requirements; we have salesmen and fitters who are experts in this particular field. We have the styles that are right—$14.75, $18, $20, $25, $30, $35.

Great Sale of Blue Suits at $25
Hockanum weaves, the finest known, three or four shades of blue in self stripe, and plain serges in soft and rough weaves; a good many of these suits are silk lined, and we show every good style. They're worth easily $35, now at $25.

highly favored. Largest

This week we have placed on sale all our regular $12 suits for men and young men at $10. Our "short lines" of $25 and $20 spring suits are still drawing the crowds because we're selling 'em at $14.75.

At no other time in your life is it so essential that your nerves and general health be so perfect. No strengthening properties of select barley malt and choiceasily and quickly assimila-

US BANK NOTES ARE TRACED BY OFFICER.

States Secret Service Agent That Not More Than Fifteen Worthless Ten-Dollar Bills Kind Reported Have Been Here.

Since on the part of small merchants in the city has led to their acquisition of fifteen or more counterfeit bank notes. The bogus paper brought to Los Angeles about a year ago, and the counterfeiters past the bad bills, for the reached United States Secret Agent Hazen that a large of counterfeit money was in use. After making a careful the situation, he said yesterday more than $100 worth of it has been passed here. Some passers apparently "dropped" it some of the local merchants, on way north," said Hazen. "I have a number of persons how to counterfeit. On the bills here, the impression was made from a wood-cut. The a thin and brittle, while the counterfeit article is thick and tough, pulse has been running through. This imitation has straight the back of the counterfeit. The only way such a be passed would be to offer an ignorant person or to a who is busy at the time. Any customer to making change t once suspect the genuineness a bill.

Banks do not print their own notes any more. The work is done in the engraving department of the United States Treasury. The banks order bills and after they are signed by the president and cashier, in each case, they are put into circulation.

BURGERS TIE TENDONS.

Man Carrying Scythe Falls from Bicycle and Inflicts Bad Injury to His Knees.

L. Olson, a gardener living at No. 1823 Cordova street, when taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday, underwent a surgical operation which would have been considered impossible but a few years ago. Olson was riding a bicycle along West Adams street, carrying a large scythe, and fell from his wheel.

His right knee struck the edge of the thin, sharp blade, which cut through all the muscles and tissues as well as through the knee cap. The severed tendons were tied together by Drs. Zerling and Wright, the police surgeon, and the chances are that Olson will recover from an injury which, formerly, would have left him a hopeless cripple.

"MICE AND MEN."

English Comedy Is Presented Creditably by the Seniors of Cumnock School of Expression.

Last night the senior class of the Cumnock School of Expression presented the English comedy, "Mice and Men," to a large gathering of friends. There were many pretty features, one of which was a minut without music, danced by Mrs. Greene, and Miss Hazel Dell.

Mark Embury, a learned and long-faced gentleman, played by Marie S. Hickox, took to himself a ward, Peggy, and trained her for the office of housekeeper and wife-to-be, only to lose her affections when his nephew, Capt. George Lovell, came home, gorgeous in his gold lace and army trappings. The part of the captain was well played by Marion Strathearn, and Mrs. Alida Greene was in the role of Peggy. After the usual intrigues, misunderstanding, and quarrels came a masquerade ball, and in the end all were made happy. Miss Georgia Morton, as a willful and captivating wife, was well cast, and did full justice to the role. She is the possessor of a beautifully-modulated voice, and she has been trained to use it to the best advantage.

Other seniors in the cast were Ethel Cummings, Annie C. Poyas, Mrs. Mabel Fishburn, all being graduated from the School of Expression, and Miss Emma Lane, from the physical culture department.

One of the hits of the evening was a gift to an elderly matron which, when unwrapped, proved to be one of this season's popular and much-worn "mop," or "turban" frames.

The play, which is a part of the school's regular work, marks the close of a three years' course of study.

FIRE DESTROYS ELEVEN HOUSES.

PROPERTY LOSS IS SMALL, BUT RESIDENTS SUFFER.

Blaze Has Its Origin in a Barber Shop, the Owner of Which Fleed. Woman Recovers Pocketbook Intact in Charred Remains of Trunk—Little Insurance Is Carried.

Two-thirds of a city block at First and Vignes streets was laid in ashes at 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when eleven houses were destroyed by a fire which is believed to have started in a barber shop at No. 118 Vignes street.

None of the buildings burned or damaged were of much value. They were all small wooden or adobe structures, but the aggregate loss was estimated at about $5000. The fire spread so rapidly that none of the people—Jews, Russians and Choles—had time his place, which was at the First-street corner of Vignes, the fire spread rapidly to a vacant house next door, No. 118 1-2 Vignes, then to No. 120, occupied by N. Bukowitz, as a residence, the second-hand store of Mrs. Nora Levinson at No. 120 1-2 Vignes, another place which had been open but two days; then to the vacant house at No. 122 and the grocery and residence of A. Shulman at No. 122 1-2; and then to the homes of Anne Dugene at the rear of the barber shop, J. E. Ramirez, No. 104 Vignes street, and Maria Diaz, No. 70 Vignes.

From the last house, the fire crossed the street to the residence of Pete Pappas, at No. 211 Vignes street, but there the flames were stopped by the fire department.

Mrs. Levinson and Shulman were the only ones of those burned out to carry insurance. She had $300 on her stock in trade, and he carried $500 on the goods in his store. The others lost all they had except a few articles of clothing and personal effects that they had snatched up in a hurry. All of the burned houses were owned by Dan Pittzel, a bartender, who carried $2500 insurance on the buildings.

Shulman, after the fire, visited the site of his former place of business and dug up a large quantity of sausages he had for sale. He complained bitterly that they had been "smoked too much."

Mrs. Levinson, accompanied by Patrolman Greeley, found in the ashes of her second-hand store the burned rem-did not open it. She would not be the least bit of the amount, which she questioned her that it was of his business.
